First Green Program

First Green is an innovative environmental education outreach program using golf courses as hands-on environmental learning labs. First Green coordinates outdoor STEM field trips at golf courses that allow students to perform hands-on experiments and tests, all within the focus of their schools' environmental science curricula. In these outdoor "labs," students test water quality, collect soil samples, identify plants, conduct math activities and work with local issues, such as stream-bed restoration or owl-nest restoration. First Green has recently debuted three learning labs in Spanish, extending the reach of this program.

First Green was founded in 1997 and is a program of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America (GCSAA). It is administered by the Environmental Institute for Golf, the philanthropic organization of GCSAA.
